ROOSEVELT IS RECOVERING

Wound Shows No Infection and Patient Is Resting Well—Early Recovery Expected.

Chicago, Ill., Oct. 17.—Col. Roosevelt slept soundly as midnight passed. The rooms of his suite were dark and silent. Night Nurse Margaret Fitzgerald was exiled from the room, which she had turned over to Mrs. Roosevelt, and sat outside with the police sergeant, who was on guard. She said that she had nothing to do for the Colonel and would not go to him unless he rang.

Chicago, Ill., Oct. 16.—The bullet wound inflicted in Col. Roosevelt's chest at Milwaukee Monday night, officially was announced today for the first time, is healing normally without infection. The statement that no complications have shown themselves was made after a day during which the first successful X-ray picture of the wound in the Colonel's chest was examined by the surgeons. The fact developed that the wound made by the assassin's bullet fractured the Colonel's fourth rib. The missile remains imbedded, apparently in the bone. The fracture, however, it is stated, will not affect the treatment in any way, but will be allowed to heal untreated, as will the wound.

A description of the wound given tonight by Dr. W. B. McCauley is the first to be given to the public by the surgeons. He said that the bullet's path through the muscles of the chest is lacerated to some extent by the battered lead, but that there was little confusion and no extensive area of bruised and extravasated surrounding tissues.

"The bullet did not 'mushroom,' as might have been expected," said Dr. McCauley. "For that reason it cut a comparatively small hole in the skin and did not reduce a large portion of the near-by tissues to pulp, as is the case in a soft bullet that 'mushrooms' in animal tissue after it hits a bone. I think the bundle of papers in Col. Roosevelt's pocket checked it, and the spectacle case, for some reason, failed to spread the bullet much.

The wound is about big enough to put your finger in at the surface, and it does not appear to get very much bigger. I would call it a very clean wound. The skin is torn at the surface, in a ragged way, but not badly, and there is little bruising.

"There is not a sign of suppuration in the wound. The flesh is in good condition and seems to be healing without complication. If there was pus forming deep in the wound we would know it at once by an unusual rise of temperature."

Dr. McCauley added that it is now certain from the X-ray pictures that the bullet has not entered or injured the pleural cavity, removing a grave possibility in the case.

He pointed out the normal condition of the patient indicated by the official chart taken at 10 p. m.

Dr. McCauley's statement was given after leaving the Colonel's room and after a consultation with the other surgeons.

He confirmed a previous announcement that no attempt would be made at present to remove the bullet, which is not expected to hinder the healing of the fractured rib.

There are three things that go to make a good cigar: good tobaccos, perfectly blended, skilled labor and knowing how to combine the two. We don't buy cigars because we like the man who sells them. We know how they are made, what they are made of, which accounts for the popularity of the cigars we sell.

We especially recommend a new cigar we have just got in which is unquestionably the best value for 5c on the market today. The filler has a fine flavor and aroma and it burns evenly and is good down to the last puff. If you are a discriminating smoker, don't fail to try one.

DEMOCRATIC NOMINEES IN OKLAHOMA

The people of the whole state vote for a United States Senator, three congressmen-at-large, a corporation commissioner, a justice of the supreme court and a justice of the criminal court of appeals, besides ten presidential electors. Under the law enacted by the people on the 5th of August, the United States Senator is to be chosen by a direct vote. It is important, therefore, that every voter should remember this, and cast his vote for Honorable Robert L. Owen who has served this state so faithfully and with so much distinction.

The three candidates for congressmen-at-large are among the state's foremost citizens—men of recognized ability and against whose integrity no charge has ever been made. They will make worthy, creditable, and efficient representatives of the people.

The Honorable Jack Love, President of the Corporation Commission, is a candidate for re-election. The service he has rendered this state is a sufficient recommendation to him. There is no doubt whatever that he will be overwhelmingly re-elected.

The Honorable John B. Turner, of Vinita, who has been a member of the Supreme Court since its organization is also a candidate for re-election. Judge Turner is recognized as one of the able members of a strong court, a court that has high standing among the state courts of this country.

Judge Furman, who has served the people of this state for five years as Justice of the Criminal Court of Appeals, and served them in a manner that has attracted attention to this state and helped to make the Criminal Court of Appeals of Oklahoma a leader in the movement for reform in Criminal procedure, is also a candidate for re-election. It is only necessary to remind the people of the entire state that Judge Furman's name is on the ticket, and that the election of the Justice of the Criminal Court of Appeals is by the whole state and not by a district.

The Democratic Party presents a state ticket which ranks high for ability and character—a ticket made up of clean and strong men—men who have been tried and not found wanting, and on the personnel of its leadership as well as on the sound principles of government for which it stands it makes its appeal to the voters of Oklahoma.

In Memory of Keystone Soldiers.
Culpeper, Va., Oct. 17.—In the presence of a representative assemblage including veterans of both the Union and Confederate armies, a monument commemorating the valor of the soldiers of Pennsylvania who are buried in the National Cemetery here was dedicated today.

The memorial was erected under a provision of the Pennsylvania legislature. Governor Tener of that state and his staff and a large delegation of citizens who served in Pennsylvania regiments during the war were present.

The memorial is of granite and is 13 feet square at the base and rises 30 feet, being surmounted by a large granite ball. The monument was not erected in commemoration of any particular battle, for Culpeper was the center of a number of skirmishes and battles, nor for any particular organization.

The inscription on the base of the monument is as follows:

"Pennsylvania remembers with solemn pride her heroic sons, who here repose in known and unknown graves. May their sacrifices be an inspiration to the people and promote civic virtue, love of liberty, peace, prosperity and happiness in all the states. Dulce et decorum est pro patria mori."

Mrs. Gentry Asks Parole.
Oklahoma City, Ok., Oct. 16.—Formal application was made to Gov. Cruce for parole of Mrs. Alberta Gentry, serving a life sentence in the McAlester penitentiary for the murder of her husband, Thomas Gentry, a well known business man and Mason of this place. It was represented that her health had broken so that she could not longer endure the hardships of prison life.

Gov. Cruce has written to McAlester physicians to make an examination of the prisoner and report upon her condition.

The Youths Companion for 1913.

The Youths Companion appeals to every interest of family life, from housekeeping to athletics. It begins with stories of youthful vim and vigor, with articles which disclose the secrets of successful play in the great games, with charming tales of life at the girls' colleges. But the Companion does not surrender these readers when they have entered the more serious paths of life. Mothers will welcome the page for little children and the weekly doctor's article. Fathers will find the important news of the day as it is, and not as it is rumored to be. The entire household will appreciate the sketches which touch gently on common foibles or caricature eccentricity. In short, for less than four cents a week The Companion brings into the home clean entertainment, pure inspiration, fine ideals, increase of knowledge.

WELEETKA WILL PLAY

NORMAL FRIDAY

The Weleetka foot ball team, which will play the Normal team on the home grounds tomorrow, is said to be one of the best high school teams in Oklahoma. It has won every game played this season, some of the games being won by immensely large scores. It has defeated Okemah, Okmulgee, and Prague all in succession.

No doubt the fans of Ada will be able to see a good exhibition of the famous school game. The Normal team is in better condition than it has been before this season, and the members of the team are confident of victory. However, they are not expecting an easy game.

The following is the schedule of the Normal team for the remainder of the season: Weleetka at Ada, Oct. 18; Tishomingo A. & M. College at Ada, Oct. 25; Sacred Heart Academy at Ada, Oct. 30; Sacred Heart Academy at Konawa, Nov. 9; Tishomingo A. & M. Only Building of Its Kind.

Albany, N. Y., Oct. 17.—Scores of distinguished men and educators of this and other states joined today in the dedication of the New York State Education Building, the only building erected by any American state or any foreign country for the exclusive use of its educational activities. The dedicatory exercises were combined with the one hundredth anniversary of the act of 1812, which laid the foundation upon which the New York state system of education has been constructed and maintained.

A reception in honor of the delegates representing educational institutions throughout the country was held in the new building this morning. Whitelaw Reid, ambassador to Great Britain and chancellor of the University of the State of New York, delivered the opening address at the dedicatory exercises this afternoon. Governor John A. Dix, on behalf of the state, presented the building to the board of regents, for whom acceptance was made in an eloquent address by Vice Chancellor St. Clair McKelway. Dr. Andrew S. Draper, commissioner of education of the state of New York then proceeded to deliver the dedicatory address. The exercises concluded with brief congratulatory addresses by former Governor Benjamin B. Odell Jr., and others.

The building dedicated today was erected at a cost of $4,000,000. It is a structure of imposing beauty and classical design. One of the leading features is a great auditorium, occupying two stories, with a gallery and promenade on three sides. The ground floor is given over to offices. On the second or main floor of the building is a great central rotunda whose dome soars ninety feet to the top of the building, and whence radiate the main halls of the library.

To the rear of the rotunda extends the wing in which are housed the main reading room and the book stack of the state library. Other large connecting chambers are given over to the law, medical and technological libraries. In the western half of the building is the legislative reference library. The whole of the top floor is given over to the state museum, which will occupy four immense rooms. The principal room is 570 feet long, and is not equalled in open and dignified space by any other museum in the country.

BURRELL OATES MUST HANG

Austin, Tex., Oct. 17.—With the refusal by the Court of Criminal Appeals to grant a new hearing upon the appeal of Burrell Oates, negro, seven times tried upon a charge of murder and six times condemned to death, the last recourse in the courts of Texas was closed in a case that had its origin in the killing of Sol Aronoff in Dallas on the night of Nov. 29, 1904. The higher court affirmed the case as brought to it from the district court of Ellis county upon a change of venue on June 26, 1912.

The negro received the death penalty at the hands of an Ellis county jury last winter, being the sixth time that the penalty had been assessed against him. Five times the case was reversed by the court of criminal appeals and one time a new trial was granted. The other trial of the seven resulted in a hung jury.

Sol Aronoff, a merchant, was killed in his store at the foot of Jefferson street on Nov. 29, 1904. On Dec. 2 indictments were returned by the grand jury against Burrell Oates, Holly Vann and Frank McCue, charging each of them with murder in connection with the killing of Aronoff. Holly Vann was tried soon afterward, convicted and sentenced to death, his execution occurring at Dallas on May 2, 1905, after the case had been affirmed by the Court of Criminal Appeals. McCue had entered agreement to turn state's evidence.

A negro Oates has been in jail either in Dallas or in Ellis County ever since the time of his arrest. A. S. Bassett, an attorney of Dallas, was appointed by Judge E. B. Muse to represent Oates and he has continued his defense in each trial and arguing it before the Court of Criminal Appeals on each appeal. The five reversals and the long time that the case has been on the court dockets have made it possibly the most famous criminal case that ever originated in Texas and among the best-known cases in the criminal annals of the United States. Upon the frequent reversals and technicalities not affecting the guilt of the defendant have been based many of the arguments of those who favor reform of the criminal procedure in Texas.

Burrell Oates now has no resource in the courts of Texas and unless some dispensation is made by the governor, he will hang according to sentence upon a date to be fixed by Judge Hawkins of the district court of Ellis county, in which Oates received his last sentence.

The world may be growing worse all the time and going to the devil at lightning speed, but somehow we have no particular desire to turn time backward in its flight and live in some earlier century.

The world's baseball championship has been settled and the country can now turn its attention to the political situation again. The stump speakers have had a hard time of it during the past ten days, for the bulletin board and not the stump was the center of interest.

Roosevelt complains that his shooting was the indirect result of violent attacks made on him by his opponents and their supporters. However, he must take a goodly share of the blame to himself, for he was the one who originated this method of campaigning.

Governor Wilson displays fine generosity in cancelling his speaking dates on account of the inability of Col. Roosevelt to continue in the campaign. Here is another evidence of tact of Woodrow Wilson, and it is worth remembering that tact is a very essential qualification for the successful conduct of any important public position.

It's quite a joke to hear Republican orators howl about hard times in the days of Cleveland. However, the people do not seem half as much interested in that as they are about the present high cost of living as a result of the robber tariff foisted on the nation by the republicans. Not one has much to say in defense of Taft's tariff vetoes. There is not much to be said.

Not Really Naval Stores.

The terming of turpentine, tar, pitch and rosin as naval stores is a misnomer. It originated many years ago, when tar and pitch first were used to coat the bottoms of vessels to make them watertight and to cover the rigging of ships to preserve it from the action of the weather. All ships carried always a supply of tar among their stores, and hence the original of the term "naval stores." It was used only by ship builders and ship owners and others who had to do directly with shipping, and was a nautical term only. Then, when the products of the gum of the long-leaf pine came into general commercial importance, the term was accepted as a fitting one for all articles of commerce manufactured from that substance, and is maintained to this day, although the uses that created it have little to do with the interests of the trade.

"The Daughter of the Sheriff" is a good western picture.

Sorosis Notes.

The lesson will be, Act I, Scenes, 4 and 5, from Twelfth Night.

HIGH GRADE LYCEUM COURSE

Ada is to have the advantage of a $550 lyceum course consisting of five numbers of high grade entertainments. The first will be given at the normal auditorium next, Wednesday evening by the Chicago Ladies Orchestra, and the second a week later by Capt. R. P. Hobson, the hero of the Merrimac at Santiago during the war with Spain. Capt. Hobson has kindly agreed to deliver a free lecture at the normal on the afternoon of that day (Oct. 30) in which he will tell of his experience on the Merrimac. The other three numbers will be announced later.

The profits from this course will be applied to the liquidation of a debt of $500 yet due on account of the fight against the Akin bill, which if adopted, would have wiped the Ada normal out of existence. Some of the schools affected failed to meet their share of the expense, and Ada led the fight that resulted in defeating that pernicious bill. This incurred an expenditure of $2,000 which was much less than would have been necessary had the fight been carried to a vote and a statewide campaign been financed. A few citizens have shouldered the burden which rightfully belongs to all, and by patronizing this course every one will not only get the worth of his money, but will also help lift the debt. R. E. Blanks and President Briles have guaranteed the money for the course.

Season tickets will be sold at the remarkably low price of $1.50 each, although some single numbers will be well worth the price for the entire five. Pupils will take the field Monday and call on every citizen of the city in a canvass for the sale of the tickets.

LUMBER MADE HERE IN ADA

ENTERPRISING BUSINESS MAN GRASPS GREAT OPPORTUNITY AND SAVES MONEY FOR HIMSELF AND ALL HIS PATRONS.

"The best investment I ever made," said W. W. Sledge, of the Sledge Lumber Co., to a News reporter last Friday, as he pointed toward his neat, well-planned planing mill. The mill is located in the west part of town, near the cement plant, and is one of the most profitable industries in our city. All told, there are eleven different machines installed within these four walls and they are capable—under the expert handling of Mr. Sledge's able foreman, J. M. Coffman—of doing anything that can be done to a piece of wood.

When asked why, with so many large lumber mills in the eastern part of the state, he saw fit to install his own mill and saw up and finish lumber here in Ada, two hundred miles from the pine forests, Mr. Sledge was quick to reply. He said:

"As prices have soared higher and higher the past few years, I found myself in a greater strain each year to buy at a figure at which I could meet the competition of the big fellows. They were backed by the big interests of the East and I had had to fight my battles single-handed and alone, with nothing to depend upon but my own resources. Competition in lumber business in Ada grew keener all the time and our yard here in Ada, the only source we have to depend upon for a living, was in a tight place.

"After months and years of merely coming out even in our lumber sales, and as a matter of last resort, we decided to buy this machinery and make our own lumber."

Here Mr. Sledge paused, looked about the mill and said: "This plant has solved our problem. It is the greatest investment the Sledge Lumber Company has ever made. It saves from five to ten dollars on every thousand feet of lumber we buy."

"Why so?"

"We simply buy the raw material in car-load lots, thereby saving a great per cent over our former freight bills, ship it in here in the rough and do all our own milling. We are equipped to handle any lumber we have a demand for, and have a foreman who knows the business from beginning to end. We can take a piece of timber in the rough and fashion it to meet the needs of any builder."

After these remarks, Mr. Sledge showed the writer about the plant from top to bottom. On the lower floor are machines for sawing and dressing lumber and making flooring, siding, ceiling, etc. The miller was dressing some rough boards and cutting 2x4's, all of which is done with astonishing speed and accuracy. The rough, unsightly timber goes through the mill and comes out with a polished surface that makes it fit for any use.

Up-stairs are located the machines for turning out door and window frames, screen doors and windows, brackets, balusters and all the other filigree used in putting the finishing touches on a building.

Another department of this busy little plant is devoted to the manufacture of high-class furniture for retail trade. The writer saw several solid oak and walnut library tables that would be a credit to any furniture factory, and an ornament to any home.

This planing mill has not only placed the Sledge Lumber Co. in a position to compete successfully with the biggest lumber concerns of the country, but it means a saving of money to every purchaser of lumber in this county who will take time to compare the prices of this company with those of other lumber dealers. In regard to this feature of economy, Mr. Sledge said that his company is now selling lumber made here in Ada by home labor and home capital at a figure far below what it would sell for if they had to buy the finished product from the eastern mills.

During the past two years the payroll at this institution has been far in excess of $2,000 per year, an item worthy of the consideration of home people.

In conclusion we would say that any builder, whether he intends to erect a pig pen or a palace, a cottage or a castle, a work-bench or a barn, can save money by letting this little mill on the outskirts of Ada prepare his lumber for him.

Bullet Was Not Poisoned.

Milwaukee, Wis., Oct. 17.—All fear that the bullet with which Col. Roosevelt was shot might have been inoculated with poison was dispelled today when Prof. R. E. W. Sommer, analytical chemist, notified District Attorney Zabel that no trace of poison was found by him in the empty shell and upon the other bullets in the pistol with which John Schrank shot Col. Roosevelt Monday night. A solution made by Prof. Sommer from scrapings from the bullets and the empty shell was inoculated into guinea pigs but no traces of poison were found.

CARTER'S DATES IN PONTOTOC COUNTY

The following speaking dates in Pontotoc county have been announced by Congressman Chas. D. Carter: Tuesday, Oct. 22, 7:30 p. m., Ada; Oct. 23, 2 p. m., Francis; 7:30 p. m., Rosedale.

This will be the second speech of the campaign at Ada, and it is earnestly desired that a full house meet him here.

A steady stream of cotton is now coming in from across the Canadian to the new farmers' gin. Quite a little came in from the neighborhood of Allen Wednesday. This will add considerably to the total receipts of the season and as most of the farmers thus coming in will spend a part of their money here, the business interests of the city will receive considerable benefit for this outside trade that usually goes elsewhere.

A GREAT GATHERING OF INDIAN TRIBES

Spokane, Wash., Oct. 17.—Representatives of every Indian tribe in North America will be invited to participate in a big congress to be held in Spokane next autumn, having for its purpose the advancement of the Indian's interests by thorough co-operation.

Each tribe will be asked to send five accredited representatives, who, with the large attendance of Pacific Northwest tribes assured are expected to make a total assemblage of at least 5,000 Indians.

Robert H. Gosgrove, manager of the Spokane Interstate fair, and Lew S. Hurtig are making plans for the congress, which will be the first of its kind ever held in America. Noted Indians who have gained reputations in various fields of endeavor will be asked to take the lead in the work of the congress, particularly in outlining a program for the advancement of the race in agriculture, education and other ways.

"We will ask every tribe in America to send five delegates at our expense," said Mr. Hurtig, "and I conservatively estimate an attendance of 5,000 at the congress. This will be but the beginning of what we hope to make a forward movement for the Indian to give him his proper place in business, science and statesman-

"The congress will not be without its amusement features, as we intend to have the Indians participate in the dances for which they are famous, as well as give other features that would make the event pleasant for them and entertaining for visitors.

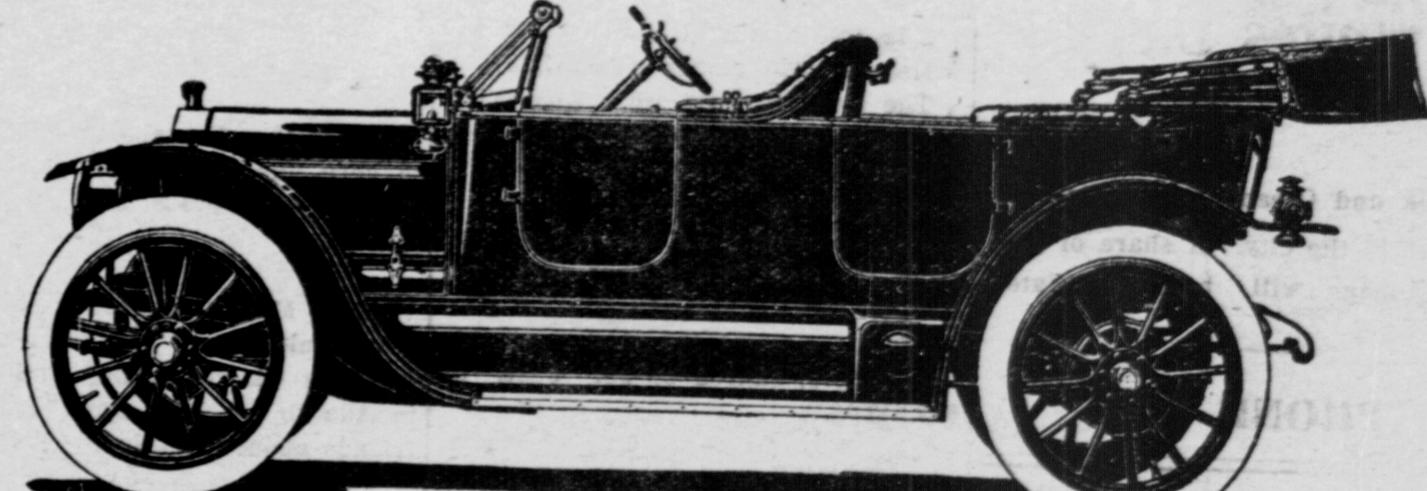

"There is no doubt but that we will have the co-operation of Pacific Northwest tribes in this undertaking. For a number of years we have had several hundred nearby Indians encamped in Spokane during the fair, and they have come to a thorough appreciation of how they can help themselves by being thoroughly organized.

GET RID OF RHEUMATISM

Rubbing with liniments, blistering the affected parts, the application of plasters, and other means of external treatment, are usually helpful in relieving the pains and aches of Rheumatism. But such treatment does not get rid of the disease, because it does not reach its source. Rheumatism comes from an excess of uric acid in the blood. This acid acts as an irritant to the nerves, muscles and joints, and produces the inflammation sharp cutting pains characteristic of the trouble. When the blood is overburdened with uric acid it grows thinner and poorer in nourishing qualities. Then Rheumatism becomes chronic and not only a painful but a dangerous disease. You can get rid of Rheumatism by purifying the blood with S. S. S. This vegetable remedy goes into the circulation, neutralizes and removes the uric acid, and by building up the thin, sour blood, safely and surely cures the disease. S. S. S. makes rich, nourishing blood, which quiets excited nerves, eases the painful muscles and joints and filters out every particle of irritating uric acid from the system.
